

the Process

— by Joe Infurnari —

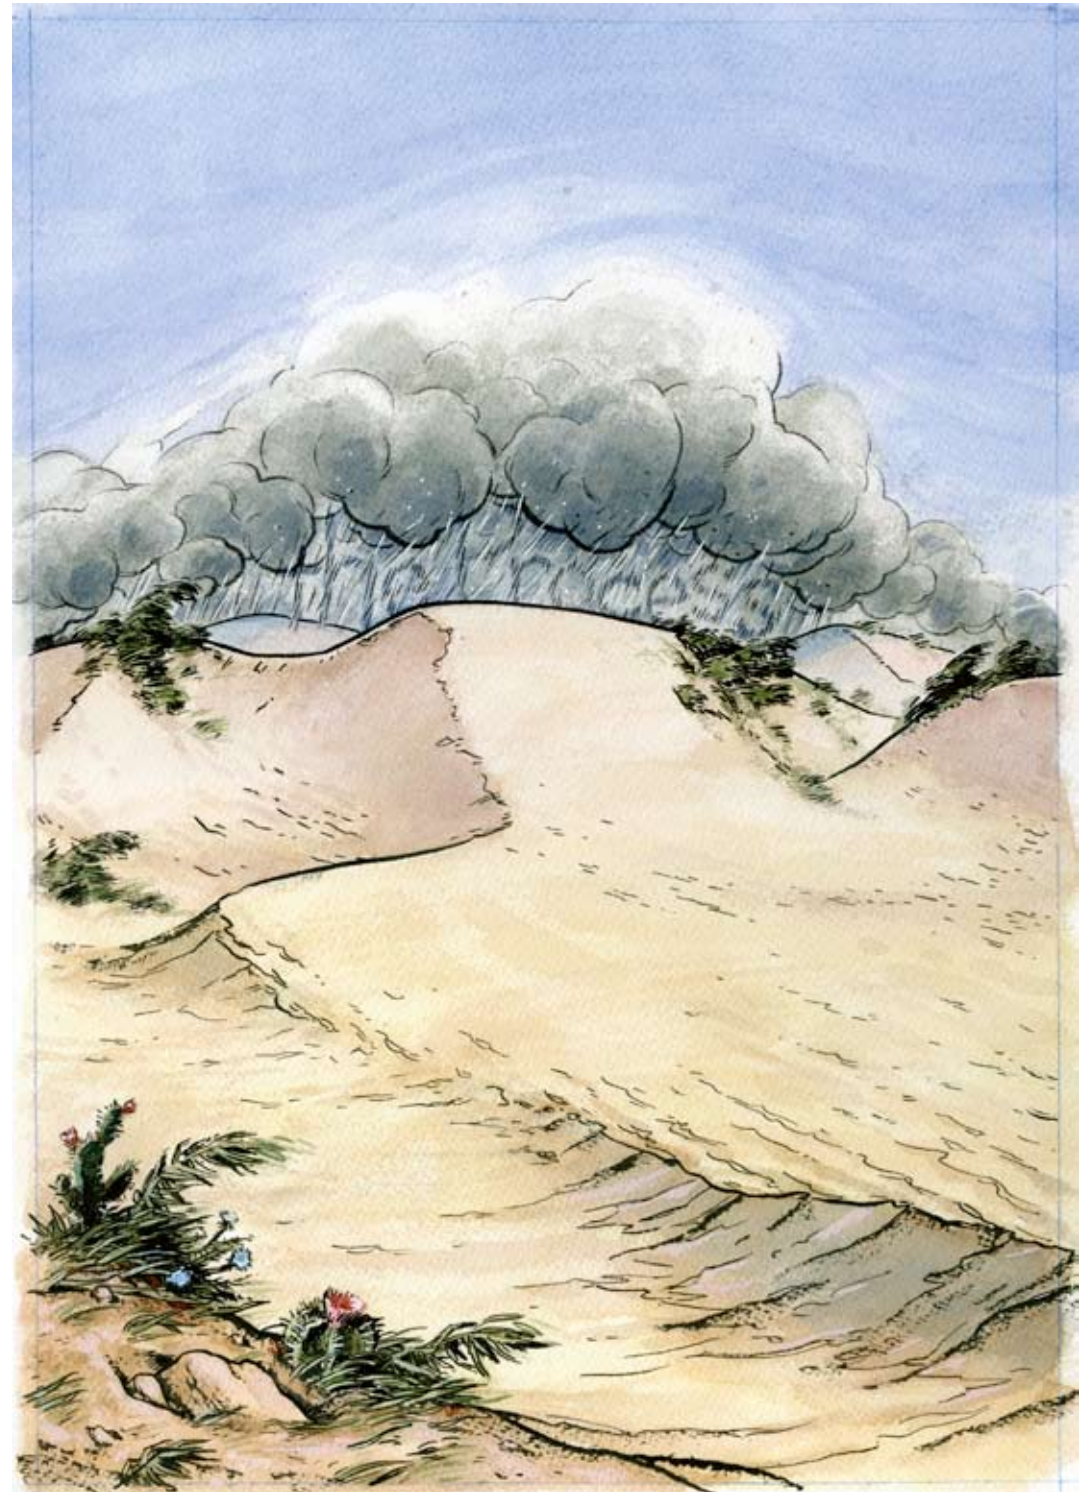

Chapter 1

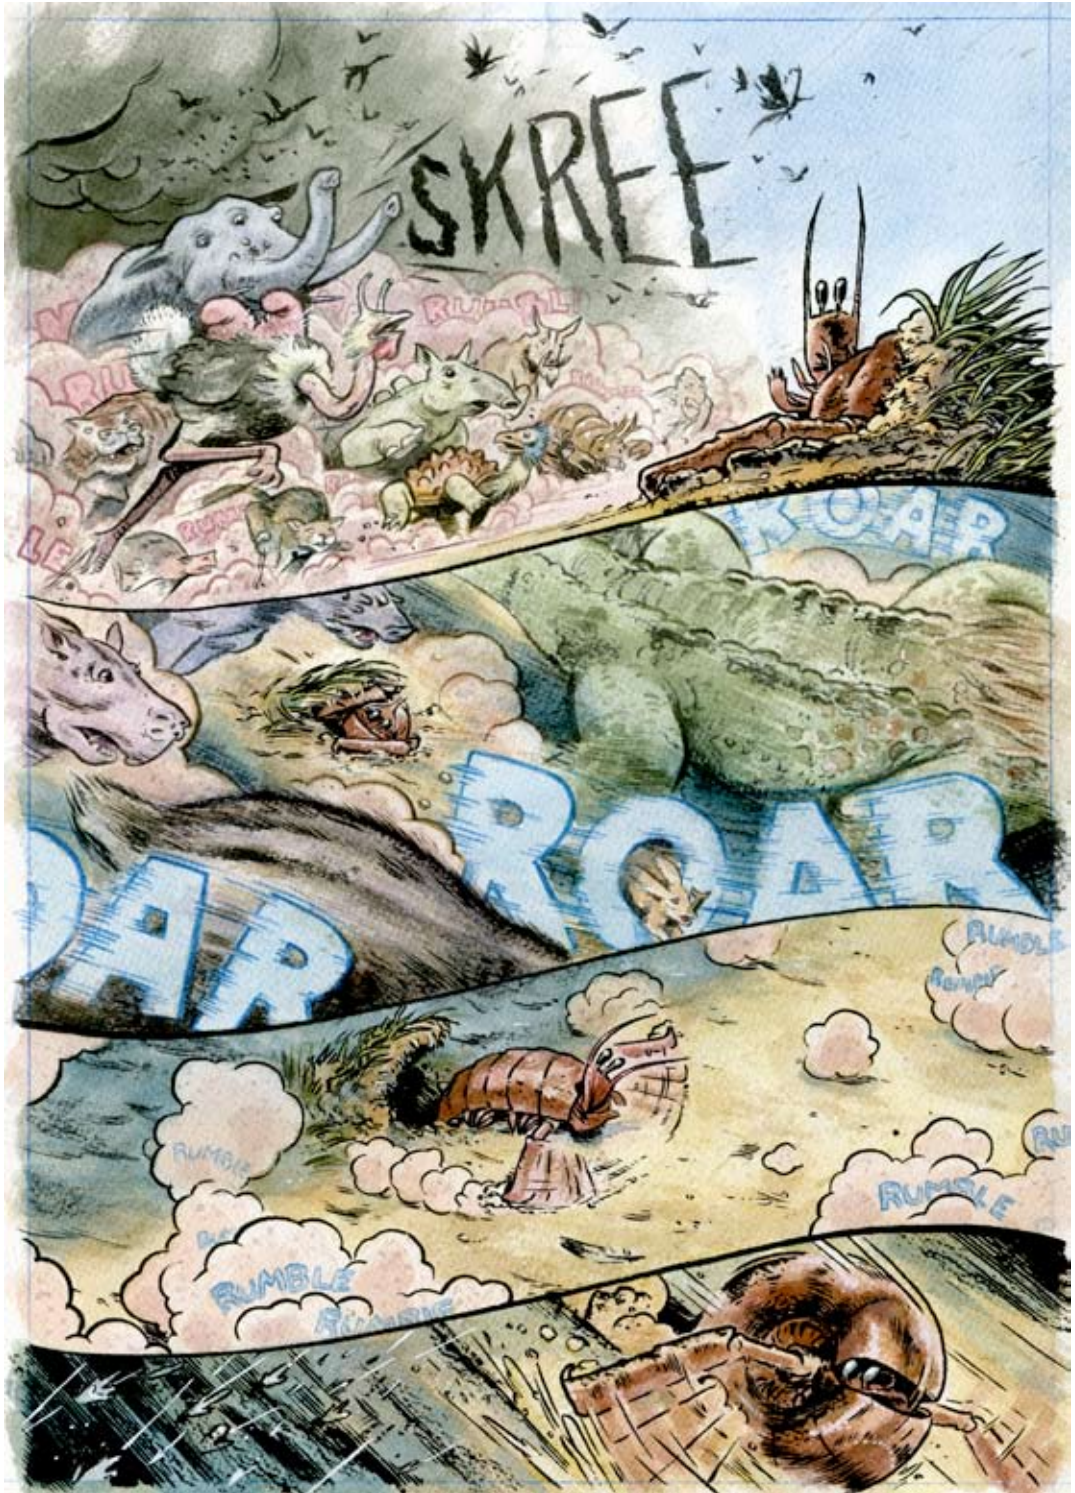

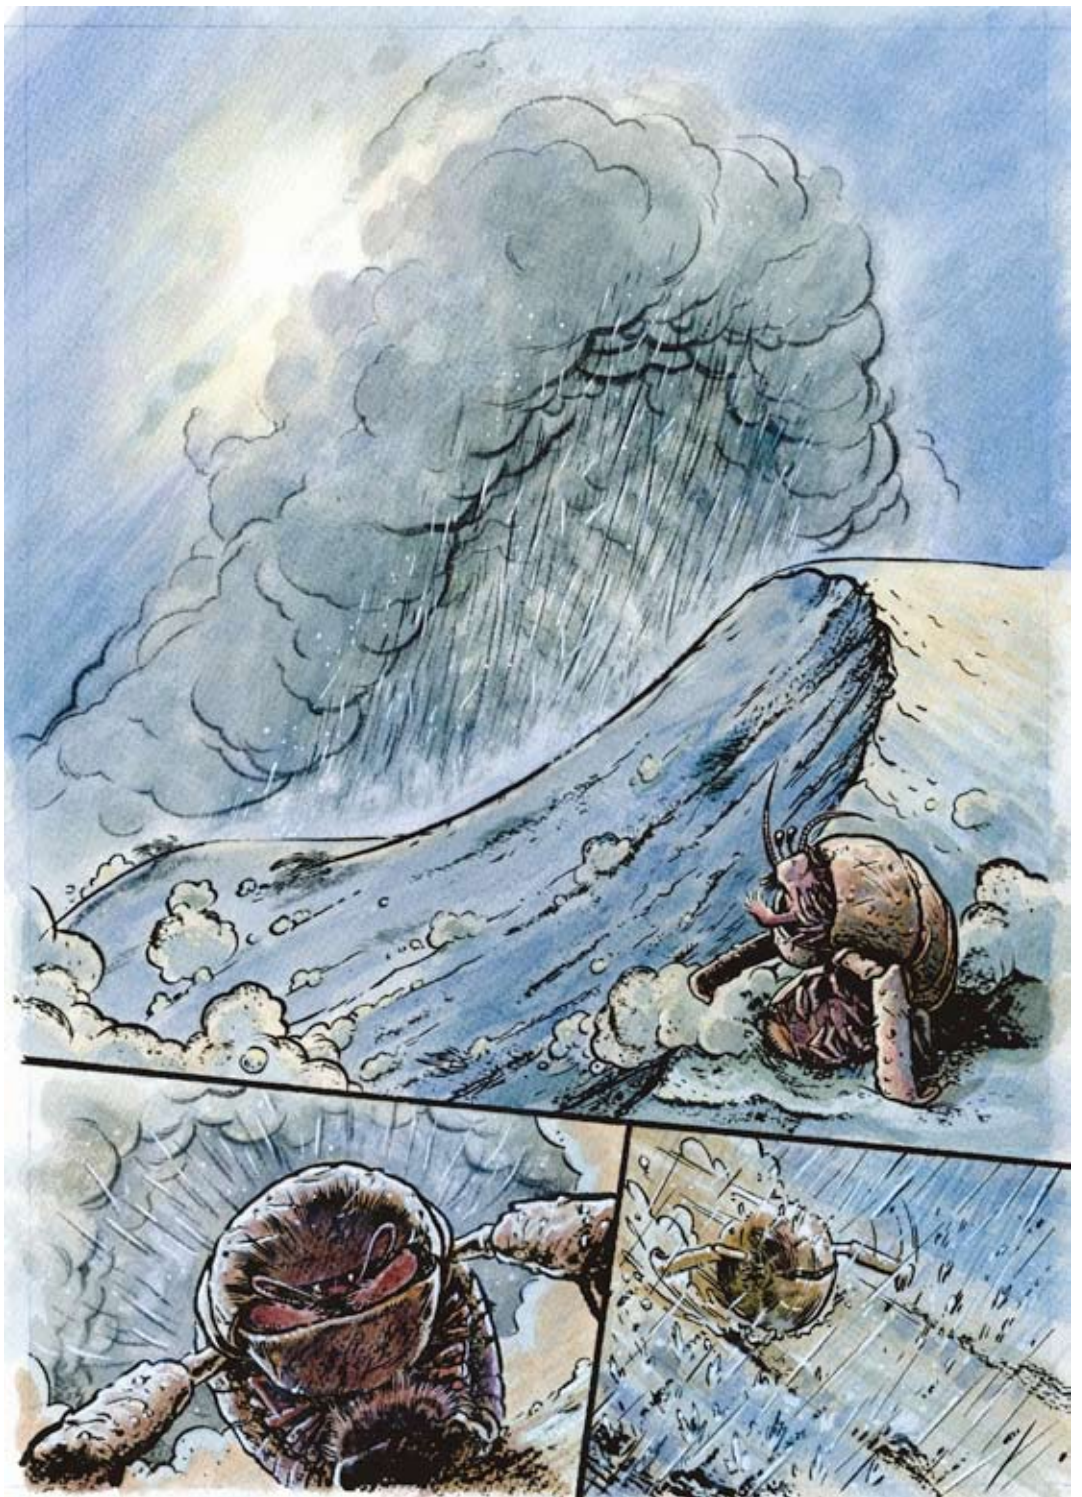

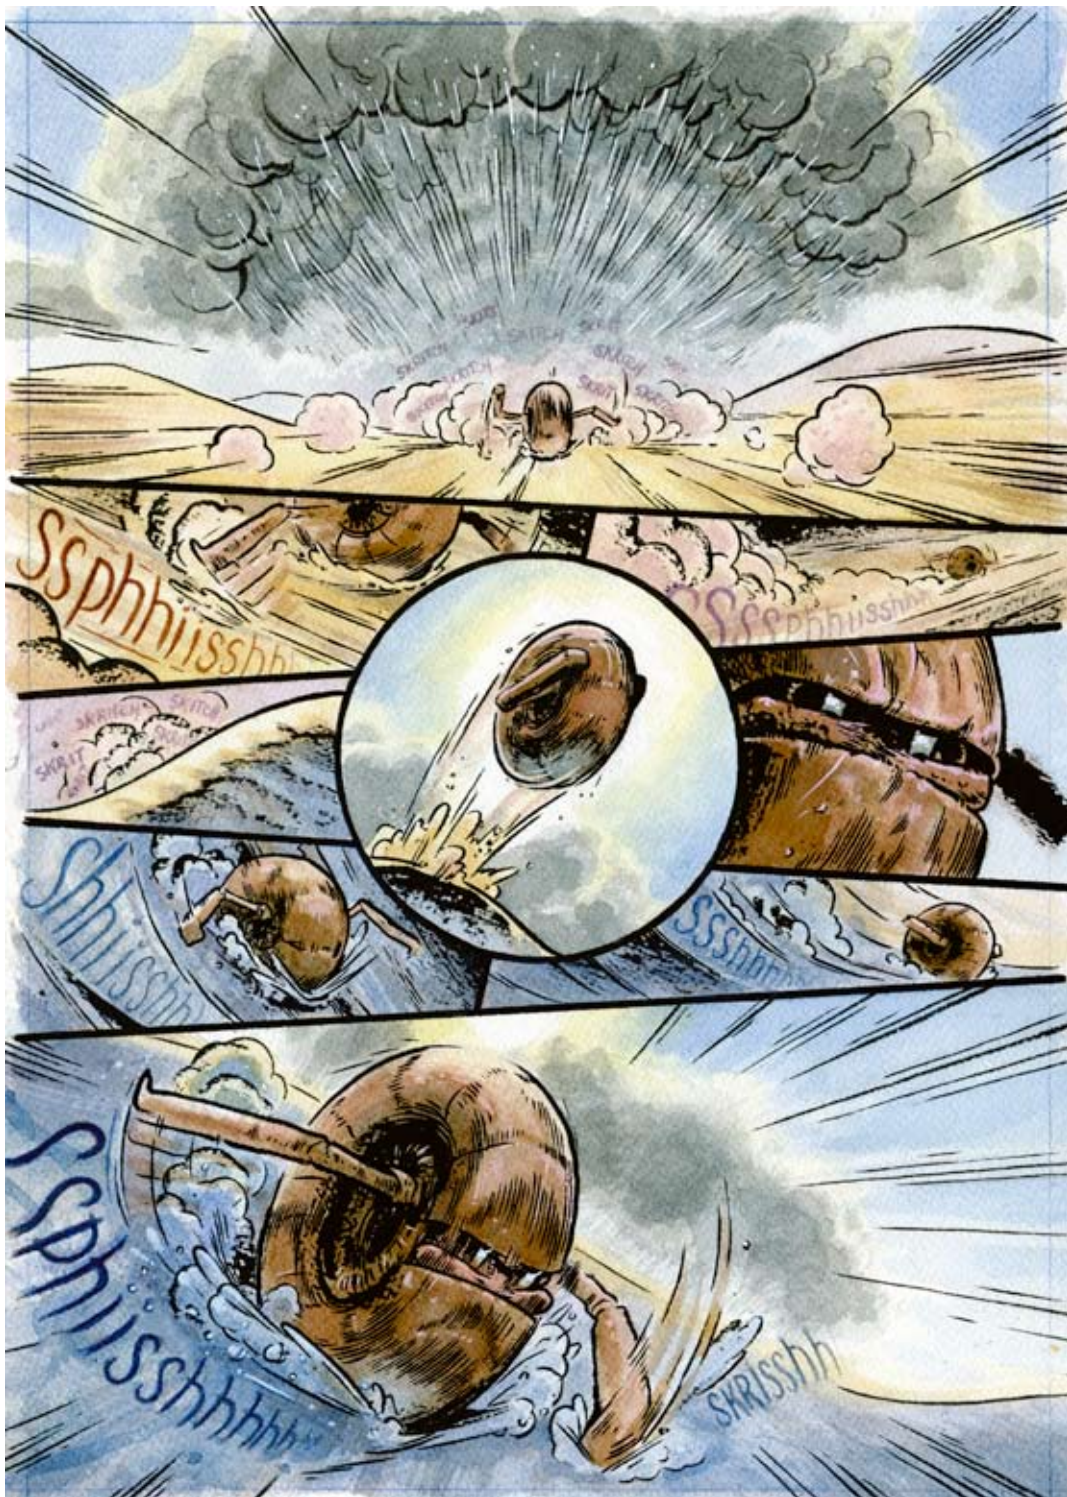

INTRODUCTION

The Process is an expedition through a personal 'pleroma', an imaginary landscape populated by a menagerie of strange, wondrous creatures and archetypal characters. Throughout the creation of this story, readers will find that the art will vary radically from chapter to chapter. Narrative elements will be enriched by visual experimentation that will also illuminate my artistic process and my journey as an artist. This ashcan of Chapter 1, introduces readers to a small part of the imaginary realm of the Process and sets in motion events that will have a tremendous impact in later chapters. It's a modest beginning to an expansive exploration and investigation into life, creativity and spirituality. So without further delay, I give you the Process!

Joe Infurnari

sklask!

sklik!
sklik sklak!

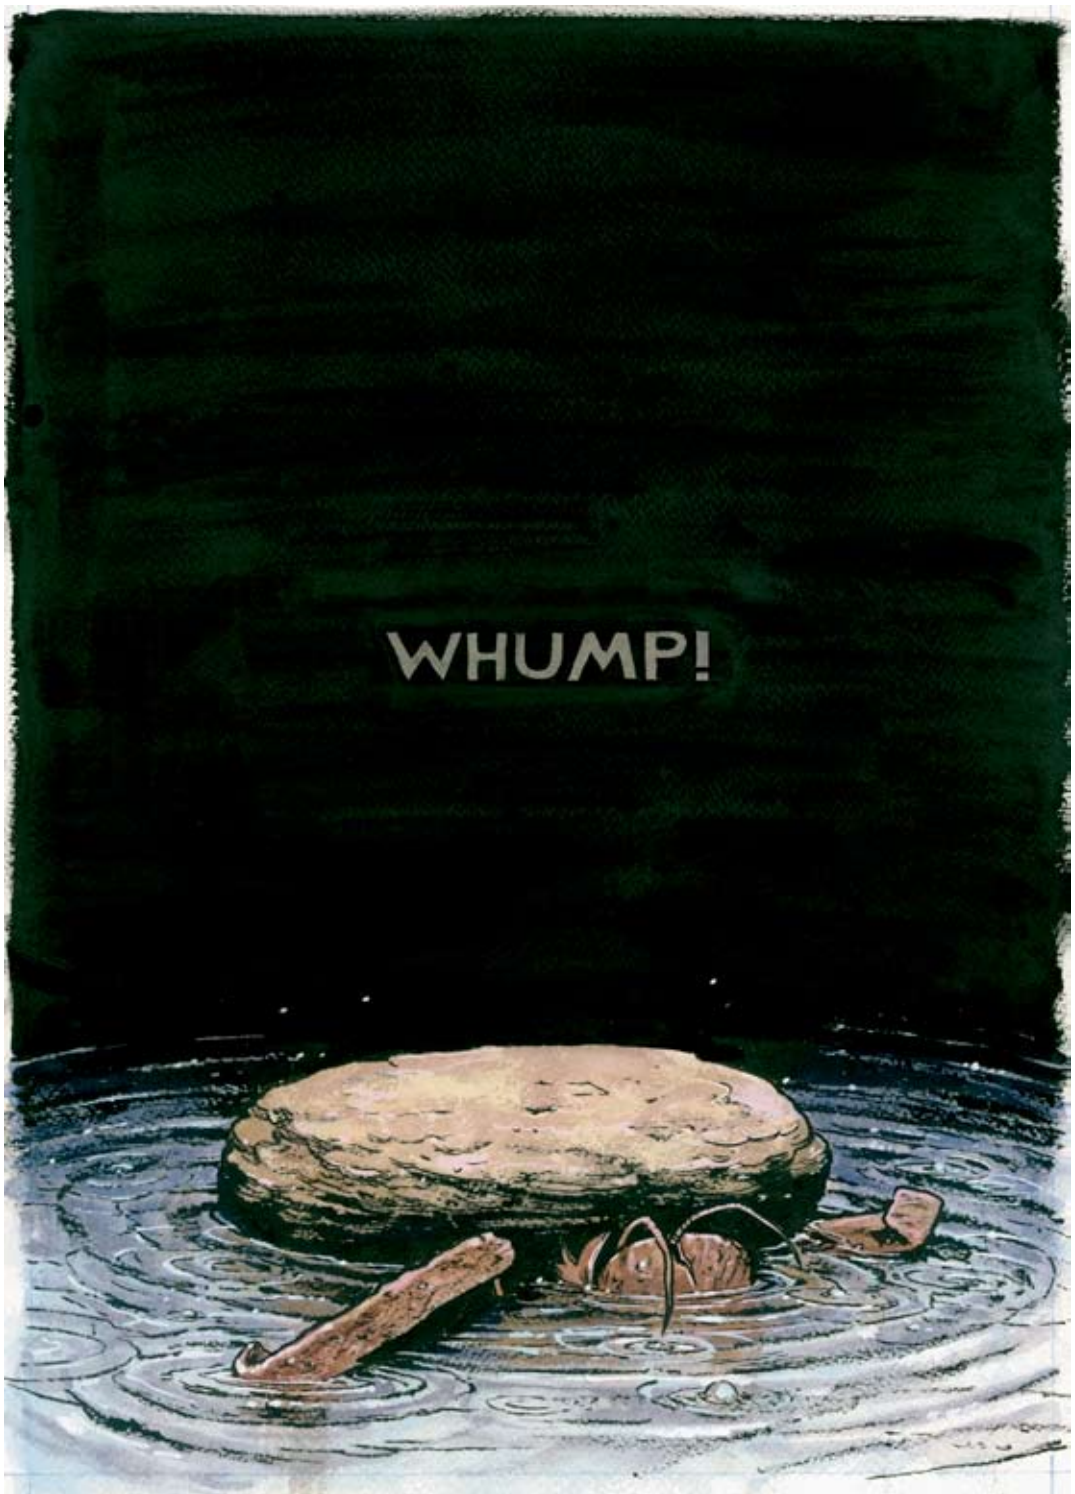

Swiff Swiff Swiff
Swiff Swiff
Swiff Swiff

slish! slosh!
sklik! sklak! sklik!

To see what happens next and learn more about this project, please visit the Process online at:

www.theprocesscomic.com

This ashcan comic has been created to help develop this project in print and to explore other outlets on the web. All inquiries and questions can be made by contacting Joe Infurnari at:

joe@joeinfurnari.com

917 697-0297

Thank you for your attention in reviewing this booklet. Your interest in this project is very much appreciated.
